

How do I get to Müllrose to the Planet Trail?

Müllrose is a small town in the east of the state of Brandenburg. It is about 60 kilometres east of Berlin, close to the border with Poland. Müllrose is a neighbouring town of Frankfurt(Oder) and about 15 km southwest of it. The start of the Planet Trail with the sun is located in the courtyard of Müllrose town hall. The town hall can be found at the southern end of the market square, where the first sign for the Planet Trail is also located.

By Train to Müllrose

Müllrose has a railway station on the Frankfurt (Oder) - Königs Wusterhausen line. The regional railway RB36 runs every hour in both directions. Königs Wusterhausen can be reached from Berlin by various regional trains or the S-Bahn. Frankfurt (Oder) can be reached from Berlin by Regional Express RE1 or by Eurocity in the direction of Warsaw.

After arriving at Müllros railway station, leave the station by keeping to the right and walking straight ahead along Bahnhofstraße and Seeallee past the lake to the market square.

By Car

Müllrose is located on the A12 highway and has its own exit. From the highway, follow the signs to Müllrose and in Müllrose towards Beeskow or the town centre as far as the market square. The B87 federal road also leads to Müllrose.

The input for the navigation is Germany - Müllrose - Markt 5.

By Plane

Berlin Willy Brandt Airport (BER) is located approx. 70 km from Müllrose. You can reach Müllrose by train using the airport express, which you leave at Berlin-Ostkreuz. There you change to the RE1 in the direction of Frankfurt(Oder), where you change to the RB36 to Beeskow. Müllrose is then about 15 minutes away. Müllrose can be reached by car from the airport via the A113 city highway, the A10 Berliner Ring and the A12 highwayway. Always drive in the direction of Frankfurt(Oder).

Small aircraft can also use the Pohlitz airfield (EDAE): <https://flugplatz-edae.com/>.

By Ship

Müllrose is connected to the waterway network via the Oder-Spree Canal. It is possible to anchor at the town bridge. From the town bridge, you can reach the centre of Müllrose by heading towards Beeskow.

By Bicycle

Müllrose is integrated into the Brandenburg cycle network. You can find further information at
